Magdalen College School

Magdalen College School in Oxford approached Pinnacle as the FF&E consultant to design and furnish their newly built Sixth Form centre, which included a large social space, a café and some study rooms.

The social space had to accommodate dining, socialising and studying with a strong requirement not to look like an 'airport lounge'. The study rooms needed to promote alternative studying methods and to be flexible in its use. The project was competitively tendered to 5 companies with Pinnacle being successfully appointed as the chosen supplier for the project. We created workable solutions for each area using a variety of furniture and fittings including Infinity office desks, ErgoFlex chairs and a bespoke veneer conference table.
